Flooding prompts look at Spanish Acres entrance

BY D.C. HARVILL

After excessively heavy rains early Tuesday morning left the sole exit to one of the city's subdivisions impassable, the Bay St. Louis City Council that evening authorized a plan to investigate the possible development of an alternate route out of the neighborhood.

Residents of Spanish Acres were unable to drive out of the subdivision Tuesday morning because approximately three feet of water had accumulated in the street at the neighborhood's entrance/exit.

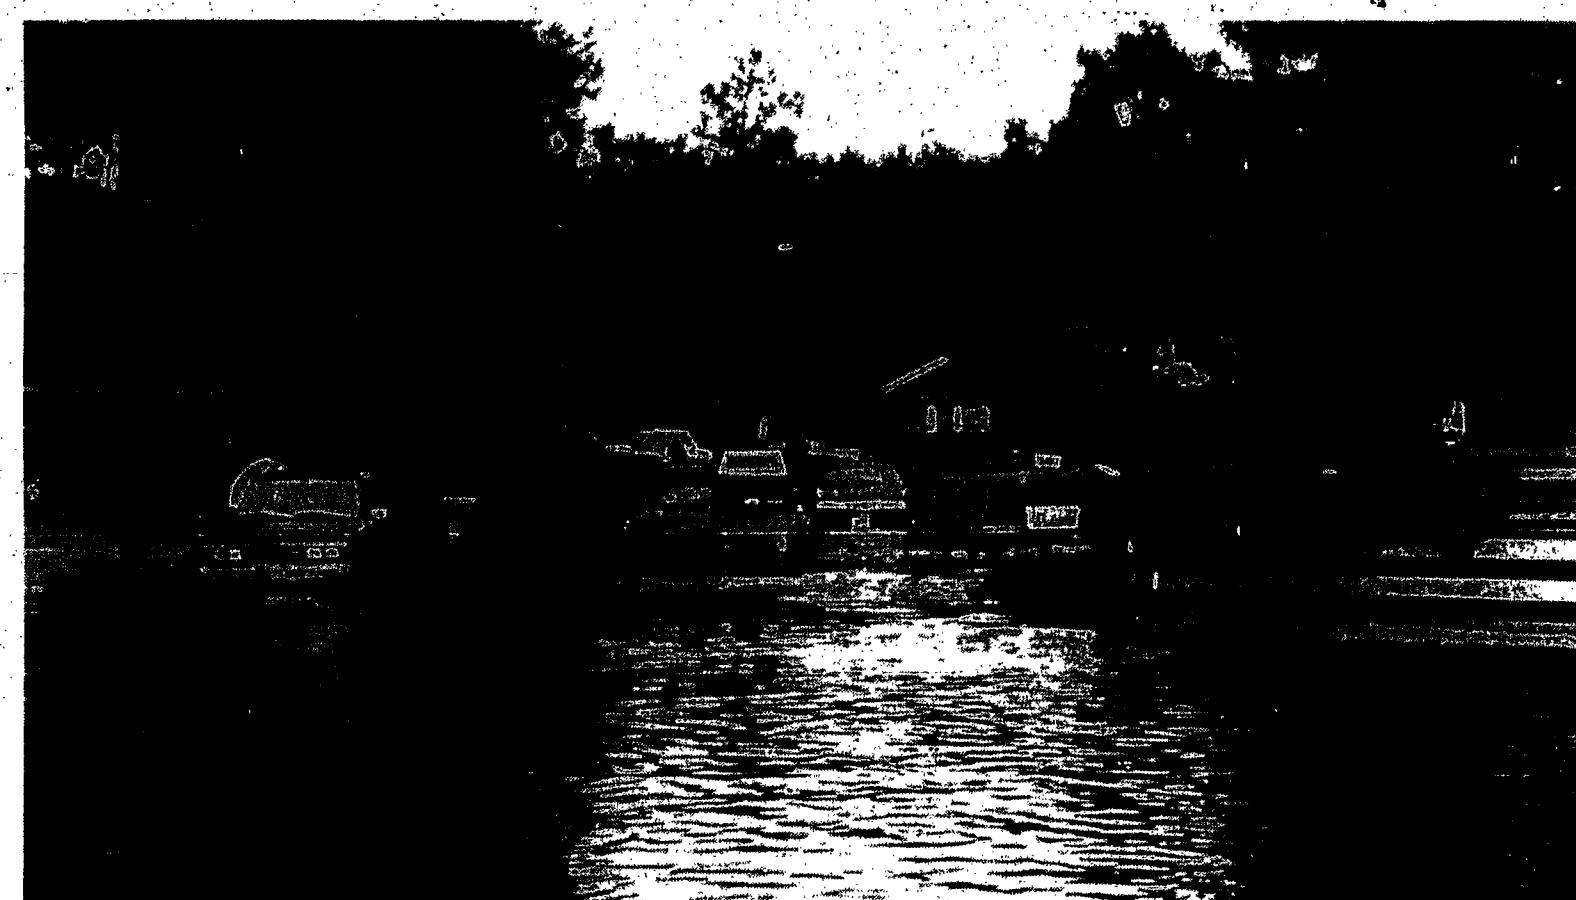

"About half of the people (in the subdivision) had to call wreckers to tow their cars through (the water). It was a potentially hazardous situation because if emergency vehicles needed to go into the neighborhood, they possibly could not have," Mayor Edward Favre told the council.

According to the Civil Defense, approximately six inches of rain fell in as many hours, councilman James Rutherford said.

The city's drainage system generally is adequate to handle half an inch of rain per hour, according to Favre.

According to Councilman James Thriffiley, the subdivision entrance had not flooded since a similarly extreme rainfall in 1985.

The mayor outlined several potential alternate routes into the subdivision.

plan calls for extension of Spanish Acres Drive across the CSX Railroad tracks to Central Avenue.

Councilman James Thriffiley questioned whether correcting the drainage problem at the existing entrance would be less expensive than acquiring a right-of-way and building a new entrance.

"If there is an accident or a fire (at the existing entrance) then there is still the need for another exit. Something can happen where we don't expect it," the mayor said.

Past attempts, by both the city and the county, to improve drainage in the vicinity of the subdivision entrance have been unsuccessful, the mayor said.

The council, with member John Wilkerison absent, unanimously approved the mayor's proposal.

Several other streets in the city experienced flooding Tuesday morning, including Easterbrook and St. John Streets.

Court, Kellar and Hancock Streets, problem areas in the past, were "bone dry," according to the mayor.

"We were pleasantly surprised," he said.

BURGLARY SUSPECT ARRESTED

David Skinner, 25, of Rt. 7, Box 93W, Bay St. Louis, has been arrested and charged with burglary.

According to Hancock County Sheriff's Department Investigator Nathan Hoda, the charge is in connection with a burglary of a Shoreline Park business on about Aug. 25.

Hoda said most of the tools and other items taken in the incident have been recovered.

Skinner has been released from the Hancock County Jail on $5,000 bond.

Hoda was assisted in the investigation by Deputies Bill Pepperman and Terry Robertson.

More dollars anticipated from United Way combined campaign

United Way groups in three coastal counties are anticipating a unified effort in the coming campaign will bring in more dollars for their health and human care needs while making the donation process simpler for the public.

After more than six months of discussion and planning, the United Way of South Mississippi formed in June with the signing of agreements between the United Way organizations in Hancock, Harrison and Pearl River counties. Planning was spearheaded by a steering committee headed by Charles Benvenuti, president of Hancock County's United Way.

The fall 1989 campaign goal for the United Way of South Mississippi will be $1,095,000, with county division goals listed as $100,000 for Hancock, $920,000 for Harrison and $75,000 for Pearl River.

Hancock County's United Way organization will be marking its 25th anniversary this year, campaign chairman Steve Planchard has announced.

"We are encouraging the citizens of Hancock County to help us raise $100,000 as we celebrate our silver anniversary," Planchard said.

Donors in the three counties will find it much easier this year to direct their United Way gift to their home community, Benvenuti said. Because of the areawide concept of the United

Third grant application planned in sign program

BY DENA BISNETTE
The City of Bay St. Louis is planning to apply for a third installment of Governor's Highway Safety Program grant funds to finance the replacement of traffic signs throughout the city.

According to Public Works Director Norbert Redmond, the present sign replacement project does not include any roads on the Federal Aid Urban System.

The system, which provides special funds for certain types of work on major roads in the city, includes Main Street, Old Spanish Trail, Dunbar Avenue, North Beach Boulevard, Blue Meadow Road, Washington Street and others.

Craig M. Hanchey, a traffic engineer with Neel-Schaffer, Inc., a Jackson engineering and planning firm, has been assisting the city with the first two parts of the project.

The first grant paid for an inventory of the existing signs finished last summer.

"We saw a lot of blank posts," Hanchey said, commenting that theft of signs, particularly stop signs, is now a nationwide problem.

He found Bay St. Louis to be similar to most cities its size.

"The majority of signs were installed 15 to 20 years ago. The normal life of a sign is eight to 10 years," he said. "Also, most of the existing ones were installed too low to be seen from behind another car, probably out of convenience," Hanchey explained.

Because the old signs could not be seen, they were a potential liability for the city, but Redmond said that to his knowledge, no one has sued Bay St. Louis over a missing sign or one that could not be seen.

There was, however, an accident near what was then Bay Junior High several years ago.

Supervisors call special meeting

BY DENA BISNETTE
The Hancock County Board of Supervisors will conduct a special meeting Friday.

The board must vote at that time to authorize legal advertisement of the 1989-90 budget and is expected to vote on the adoption of that budget at the same time.

The board moved its regular monthly meeting to Tuesday this week due to the Labor Day holiday, but the budget was no discussed at that time.

The millage rate, which must be set by Sept. 15, is not scheduled for Friday's meeting. However, the board does have another meeting scheduled for that date.

During Tuesday's meeting, the board:

—Opened bids on a microfilm reader and printer for the Hancock County Library System;

—Heard a request from Hancock County Humane Society President Thyla Rogers for assistance in finding land on which to locate a proposed new animal shelter;

—Adjudicated two pieces of private property to be health hazards after public hearings and authorized proper notifications of the owners, neither of whom attended the meeting, that they have 30 days to clean up their property; and —Heard a report from County Maintenance Superintendent Sam Cuevas regarding an auction in which surplus and junk equipment was sold last week, which netted about $27,000.

Hearing on Bay budget scheduled for tonight, district workshops set

BY D.C. HARVILL

Bay St. Louis Mayor Edward Favre announced the times and locations of a series of public hearings the city will conduct on the proposed 1990 budget.

The city's official public hearing on the budget will be 7 p.m. tonight in the council chamber of City Hall.

In an attempt to give the city's residents ample opportunity to comment on the proposed budget, however, a public budget workshop will be held in each of the city's four districts next week.

"We are trying to hold the meetings at locations accessible to the general public, including the handicapped," Favre said at Tuesday evening's city council meeting.

"We want to encourage everyone to participate. We want as many people to participate in the budget process as possibly can," he said.

The workshop schedule is:

District One.

Monday, Sept. 11, 7 to 9 p.m. at the American Legion Home on Green Meadow Road.

District Two

Thursday, Sept. 14, 7 to 9 p.m. at the Hancock County Library on Highway 90 (Ulman Street entrance).

District Three

Wednesday, Sept. 13, 7 to 9 p.m. at the St. Rose de Lima Cafeteria on Necaise Avenue.

District Four

Tuesday, Sept. 12, 7 to 9 p.m. at the Veterans of Foreign Wars home, Third Street.

Bicycling five-year-old injured running stop sign

BY D.C. HARVILL

A five-year-old Metairie girl was injured when she was hit by a truck in Waveland Sunday afternoon.

The child, whose name was not released, suffered a broken leg and lacerations to the face, according to Waveland Police Patrolman David Stepro.

The girl ran a stop sign at the intersection of Tide and Hickory Streets and was hit by a truck driven by Anthony Jackson of Waveland. No citations were issued, according to Stepro.

"They apparently saw each other at the last moment and both swerved, but it was too late. He did everything he could to avoid her but he couldn't," Stepro said.

The child was transported by Mobile Medic to East Jefferson Hospital where she was to undergo surgery, the officer said.

Way of South Mississippi, campaign materials have been designed to include information on all three counties. The pledge form donors will use will allow them to mark the area in which they live for the benefit of designating their gift.

"The concept of areawide arrangements is not a recent phenomena in the United Way movement," Benvenutti said. "United Way organizations such as ours in Mississippi are becoming aware that the need for areawide arrangements has significantly increased as a result of today's complex economic development and the interdependence among local communities. Many Coast residents live in one county but work in another."

The employees of the United Way for Harrison County with offices at 2315 17th Street in Gulfport, are providing professional staff support for the hundreds of community volunteers involved in the three counties' United Way efforts, Benvenutti said.

Board awards rain days to school's contractor

BY D.C. HARVILL

While heavy rains earlier in the day drenched much of the area, the Hancock County School Board Tuesday evening granted the contractor building the county's new junior/senior high school extra construction days because of excessive rain earlier in the year.

Lincoln Builders was awarded 21 rain days due to an abnormally high amount of rainfall in June and July.

The new school being constructed adjacent to Stennis International Airport on State Highway 603 is scheduled for completion July 1, 1990.

Rain days are the number of construction days lost due to bad weather and are determined based on the number of days, above the area's monthly average, on which there is rainfall.

"The rain days are just a precaution—it is moving right along. We lost a great deal of time to bad weather over the past four to six weeks, but we are seeing a great deal of construction now. If the weather holds out through the winter we should be able to make up some time," Superintendent of Education Terrell Randolph said.

"Within the next month to six weeks, they should begin building the cafeteria/gymnasium, the largest of the buildings—at more than two acres," Randolph said.

In other business related to the new school, the board selected the color schemes for the school's interior. "We still expect a July 1 completion date," Randolph said.

AARP Tax-Aide recruits tax assistance volunteers

American Association of Retired Persons' Tax-Aide Program as selected by the IRS as recipient of the annual Public Service Excellence Award for its extensive work in providing assistance to the elderly in filing income tax returns during 1989.

This past spring, some 25,000 AARP Tax-Aide volunteers helped more than 1,590,000 taxpaying older Americans, including more than 47,300 shut-ins. Of that number, 1,101 of these people helped, including 128 shut-ins, live in Pearl River, Hancock, Harrison and Jackson counties.

The Tax-Aide Program needs volunteers for the 1990 tax return filing season Feb. 1 through April 15. If you are interested in this kind of work, you may want to become a counselor who prepares tax forms for persons over 60; or as an instructor who teaches classes for counselors; or a coordinator who handles administration, recruitment, identification of Tax-Aide sites, and publicity for the program.

You do not have to be a member of AARP to participate in this program. AARP will reimburse each volunteer for all out-of-pocket expenses incurred during training and service.

Training this year will be conducted Jan. 15-19 at the Jefferson Davis Campus of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College in Gulfport.

For more information about volunteering, write to Tax-Aide Program, Attn: Maury Herman, 104 White Blvd., Ocean Springs, MS 39564; or call Mr. Herman at 875-9767.

Volunteers also are needed to help backstage, with lighting, sound and props, Young said.

"BRING YOUR OWN BOTTLE"

"QUOTEABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Labor Day weekend's weather seemed to have cooperated with many folks, as the rains here waited until Tuesday morning.

Residents and visitors took advantage of the dry weather to do many things such as fishing, boating, picnicking, sun bathing, cutting grass, visiting and even family reunions.

I rather took it easy on Labor Day, just did a little seawall fishing. I did manage to catch enough for several fries.

I know there must have been some folks with sunburns on Tuesday, as I saw several who looked like they were getting burned.

I hope each and everyone of you had a good holiday.

Tuesday morning's rains were a big surprise and many of our residents found that several streets were closed.

We surely got several inches of rain in a very short time, and our drainage systems were unable to handle the surge of water.

Folks residing in Spanish Acres needed very high-wheeled vehicles in order to get out of the subdivision.

Some motorists flooded their vehicles while trying to travel the streets.

There is only one way into Spanish Acres and motorists were greeted with a big lake right at the entrance.

Bay Mayor Eddie Favre was on the scene and indicated he will be trying to find a solution to the flooding problem in the subdivision.

The city has done many things in recent years trying to eliminate the flooding problems in Spanish Acres. The problem has been a nightmare for engineers.

Local high school football got off to a good start on Friday night, even though it was hot at the games.

The biggest victory last week was when the Hawks of Hancock North Central defeated the d'Iberville Warriors.

The victory over d'Iberville by the Hawks was the first in the school's history.

I know Hawks' head coach Irvin Favre really appreciated the win, as he had been trying to rally his Hawks to defeat d'Iberville since he has been head coach.

On Friday, the Hawks will travel to Pearl River Central and hope to continue their winning ways.

Hancock should not take Pearl River Central too lightly, as they seem to play their best against the Hawks.

St. Stanislaus opened with a one-point victory over an improved Pass Christian Pirate team last week.

Bay High dropped its opener to Pearl River, La. Friday.

Just how good the Rocks are this season will really be tested this week as they travel across town to play the hungry Tigers.

It should be a good game between the Tigers and Rock-A-Chaws.

I recommend those going to the game to get there early, as this game should have the largest attendance in the county this year.

The Pirates of Pass Christian will try to get in the win column this week when they play host to North Forrest.

Pass Christian could win this week if they play as good as they did last Friday.

We hope to see you at the game

WASHINGTON REPORT

By Senator Thad Cochran

Cochran praises passage of disaster relief bill

Senator Thad Cochran has applauded final Congressional passage of a disaster relief bill for farmers suffering from floods and drought.

"This is a good bill, and I urge the President to sign it," Senator Cochran said as the Senate passed the conference report and sent the measure to the White House.

Produced by a House-Senate conference committee that met late into the night Thursday, the bill provides disaster assistance to farmers in Mississippi and the Southeast suffering crop losses due to flooding, and to farmers in the Great Plains states whose crops have been damaged by drought.

Senator Cochran, a member of the conference, noted the almost-$900 million measure was within FY 1990 budgetary limitations.

Flooding caused by excessive rainfall this summer has affected about 200,000 acres of Mississippi's prime agricultural land, and agriculture experts warn that crop losses in the state could exceed $400 million.

Cotton and soybeans are expected to account for about two-thirds of this loss, while wheat, rice, fruit and vegetable crops are sustaining losses in the millions.

The Mississippi Army National Guard offers DOLLARS for College! Call your local National Guard Armory or 1-800-962-2443.

NO WAY—A sign at the entrance to Spanish Acres Subdivision reports a speed limit of 15-miles-per-hour as a pickup truck creeps through the flooded subdivision early Tuesday. An exceptionally heavy rain caused extensive flooding in the subdivision and on other streets in the Bay St. Louis area. There was no way for a vehicle to travel the posted speed limits as several vehicles were flooded out by the high waters. (Echo staff photo by Ellis Cuevas)

THE PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

From the Mississippi Economic Council

Parents should get more involved with education

Despite the best intentions and efforts of public officials, school officials and teachers, our state's school children cannot expect to improve their classroom performance without adequate primary influences—namely mom and dad.

When Jackson and Mississippi celebrated Dr. Arthur Guyton Day recently, much was written about Dr. Guyton's family, all of which was more than deserved.

Dr. Guyton, a Mississippi native, is a world-recognized physician for his work and research in physiology and biophysics, and quite uniquely nine of his ten children are doctors. The number will increase to ten once the youngest son finishes medical school.

When asked why her children were so smart and were able to become doctors, Mrs. Guy-ton's answer was dramatically simple. She said, "When they were young, I read to them."

Of course, not everyone's mother who reads to a child becomes a doctor, but few can argue the merits of spending time with a child and nurturing a child's desire to learn.

The cost of education is enormous, and many of the taxpayers footing the bill will receive no direct benefits.

It is a parental responsibility to children and to society to see that children receive the support they need at home to do well in school.

Explaining the importance of an education, helping with homework, and attending PTA meetings are not asking too much.

Don't let a child's failure stem for a parent's failure.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

More coverage sought on NASA project

Dear Editor:

Can you please tell me why none of the media (you, Sun Herald, WLOX and Picayune) have carried follow-up information regarding the environmental impact of NASA's proposed rocket testing?

I am waiting for us to have more info so we, the people, can make up our own minds.

P.S. I know there have been meetings.

Republicans need more than one candidate

To the Editor:

The Republican Party of Mississippi has decided that they will allow only one candidate to be offered to the voters.

Is this the American way of voting or is it the Communist way?

False importance makes public officials inaccessible

Dear Editor:

You know it, and I know it, and God knows it, but the persons most affected apparently do not know it. I am talking about those newly installed officers or executives who, filled to the overflowing with their own importance, overlook the factors that contributed to the current success they are enjoying.

One of the greatest faux pas (you pronounce that fox paws) is telephone etiquette or lack of it. The secretary or assistant, or whatever label sounds most impressive, has obviously been instructed to say: "Who is calling ing?" "What do you wish to talk about?" and then to reply: "Sorry, he/she has someone in the office," or "in conference," or "out of the office for the rest of the day," etc. a la nauseous.

Should the occasion arise when you could use my endorsement, character reference, etc.—or even my vote—please do not ring my door bell. It is out of order—or I am in China, or your call will be returned when Voyager 11 returns to earth—but remember, the Planet Earth is very, very fragile.

FROM THE SENATE

By U.S. Senator Trent Lott

Surveys by constituents help in making decisions

When I first entered Congress in 1972, I believed it was important for me to know exactly how the people of Mississippi felt about the issues being debated in Washington. So that first year I sent out my first legislative questionnaire; difficult questions and space for your answers. Thousands of you responded. That input helped me tremendously.

Today, 17 years later, I am still using that information. This year, for the first time, I joined forces with my colleague, Sen. Thad Cochran. We agreed on 12 questions and sent them to you in the mail. Again, the response was overwhelming.

In the drug area, almost all of you feel like tougher actions are necessary to stop illegal drug trafficking and use. Eighty-nine percent of those polled favored mandatory jail terms for those convicted of selling illegal drugs to school age children. And 90 percent felt like the United States should suspend or cut off foreign aid to countries which refuse to stop producing illegal drugs and exporting them to the United States.

Explaining the importance of an education, helping with homework, and attending PTA meetings are not asking too much.

It was particularly pleased with this response because I've been working to ensure that the U.S. Senate retains the ability to vote to decertify countries like Peru and Bolivia, who refuse to take the drug production problem seriously.

Mississippi still believes a strong defense is vital to our nation's security, but that doesn't mean you think we should be spending more money for that protection. Only 35 percent of the respondents favored increasing defense spending.

I know that many of these questions were difficult to answer, but often times that is how I, as your representative in Washington, must vote on them.

Your opinion is just as important today as it was in 1972.

And it always will be.

Faneca will serve as 5th District administrator

Attorney Cy Faneca of Gulfport has been appointed by the clerk of the U.S. House of Representatives to serve as administrator of Mississippi's 5th Congressional District until a new congressman is elected to replace the late Larkin Smith.

Congressman Smith was killed Aug. 13 in a plane crash in South Mississippi.

Faneca, who served as Smith's chief of staff, will head the 5th District office staff in Washington, D.C., Hattiesburg and Gulfport. The offices will continue to provide constituent services.

Faneca will divide his time between the Washington and Mississippi offices.

Faneca, 48, was a partner in the Gulfport law firm of Dukes, Dukes, Keating and Faneca prior to his service with Congressman Smith. He and his wife, Georgia Anne, a school teacher, have two sons, Robert, 8, and Michael, 6.

Local workers receive flight safety, mission success awards

Seventeen civil service and contractor employees at NASA's John C. Stennis Space Center received the astronauts' own personal commendation for outstanding efforts in the areas of flight safety and mission success this week at the space center's Hancock County location.

The Silver Snoopy Awards, part of NASA's Manned Flight Awareness Program, were given to the employees by Astronaut Stephen Oswald. The astronaut made a surprise appearance to the winners' work places to present the awards on behalf of NASA's astronaut corps.

Seven of the employees are from the Mississippi Gulf Coast. NASA's two award winners were Larry Goodwin of Diamondhead and Gerry Meeks of Waveland. Goodwin, SSC's comptroller, has worked for the space administration for 10 years and Stennis for the past six years.

Meeks is an aerospace technologist for the center's Science and Technology Laboratory. He has been employed by NASA at the Stennis Center for six years.

Roddie Bilbo and Melvin "Whitey" Barnes, both of Bay St. Louis, received the awards for their outstanding work as employees of Pan Am World Services, the major facility services contractor for NASA at Stennis. Both men are linemen at the Stennis Center. Bilbo has 19 years of experience at Stennis, and Barnes has been at the center for 23 years.

Rocketdyne, the company contracted by NASA to test the space Shuttle main engine, had three of its employees receive the astronaut award. They are Lee Smith of Pass Christian, Frank Pellegrino of Biloxi and Mickey Reid of Bay St. Louis.

Smith, a lead instrumentation technician, has worked for SSC for seven years.

Pellegrino is a senior safety engineer with three years experience at Stennis.

Reid, a lead mechanical technician, has worked at the center for some 25 years.

The Silver Snoopy is a pin in the form of the Snoopy cartoon character dressed in a space helmet and space suit. A certificate of appreciation and a letter of commendation were included with the award.

Reception planned for Tom Anderson

The Hancock County Republican Executive Committee invites the public to meet Tom Anderson, candidate for U. S. Representative, District 5, Saturday, September 10 from 6-8 p.m. at the Diamondhead Community Center.

State Republican Party Chairman Evelyn McPhail, a

Hancock County resident, will be on hand to welcome guests.

A donation of $5 per couple or $3 per person is requested to defray expenses.

Anderson, chief of staff for Senator Trent Lott, is making his first bid for public office after 16 years tenure in Washington, D. C.

How most people deal with the symptoms of a heart attack.

Hiding from a problem doesn't make it go away. In fact, hiding from the symptoms of a heart attack can make the problem worse. Much worse.

Be alert to heart attack symptoms. Chest pain and pressure are the most common. Pain may radiate down your arm, neck or shoulder. There's also shortness of breath. Cold sweat. Dizziness. Faintness and nausea.

Sometimes only a few symptoms occur. Sometimes more. Sometimes the symptoms can even be due to another problem.

Only one thing is certain. The sooner heart problems are treated, the better your chance of recovery.

That's why we're here. The Heart Emergency Service at NorthShore Regional Medical Center is the first of its kind in this area. Located in our Emergency Department, we save lives by detecting heart problems rapidly and providing necessary treatment.

If you experience any symptoms of a heart attack, get immediate medical attention. Anytime, day or night, you can call our emergency 24-Hour Heartline™ at 1-800-HEART-13. An emergency care professional is available around the clock to answer questions, give advice or even dispatch an ambulance if necessary.

The Heart Center at NorthShore

Regional Medical Center offers a complete range of cardiac care services. That's important to you during those first critical hours following a heart attack. And although you'll probably never need them, it's good to know our heart team is available 24 hours a day.

We employ powerful clot-dissolving drugs that can save lives by stopping and, in some instances, actually reversing the effects of heart attacks. The sooner these drugs are administered the better the chance of a complete recovery.

And advanced diagnostic capabilities, including our state-of-the-art cardiac catheterization laboratory, help us assess and treat heart problems more accurately and effectively than ever.

We also offer educational programs that help people prevent heart attacks, and rehabilitation services that help heart patients recover faster and more fully.

Learn more about The Heart Center at NorthShore Regional Medical Center by calling (504) 641-MDMD and we'll send you a free brochure that describes our cardiac services in greater detail.

Remember, don't hide from any symptoms of a heart attack. Go to the nearest hospital emergency department. If you're close to NorthShore Regional Medical Center, use the Heart Emergency Service in our Emergency Department located just east of Interstate 10 on 190—Exit 266—Gause Boulevard. Or call 1-800-HEART-13. Don't hide. Seek help.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katie McGuire Caire

As I've often said, I think that if I were down to my last food dollar, I would spend it on fresh lemons and fresh parsley, two of the finest flavor and taste enhancers ever!

For instance, the fresher-than-fresh zing of fresh lemon slices atop baked or broiled fish or chicken or pork chops certainly adds to the succulence of the dish; and, when you sprinkle chopped fresh parsley generously over it all, you've a treat in store!

Speaking of fish, I like to bake whole dressed trout or catfish or fillets of either atop a bed of chopped celery, chopped onion and chopped fresh parsley, along with lesser amounts of chopped bell (green) pepper, with fresh lemon slices atop—and don't forget to splash chablis or other white wine of your choice over the whole business! Heavenly.

I always place a lemon slice or two atop vegetables when steaming them quickly so that they stay crisp-tender, instead of becoming limp. And, how could one possibly make those classic sauces, hollandaise and bernaise, without fresh lemon juice? These are just a few of the reasons I would find dining less delightful without the tang of fresh lemons!

So I am sure you will understand my delighted response when I received a few days ago a book reviewer's copy of Lemon Twist: No Salt Added Cookbook by Ree (Soft cover, $14.95, Nutrition Unlimited Publications, Arcadia, Ca.)

The author of this intriguing cookbook, "Ree"—Ruth M. Reeder—is a native of Montana, and a longtime resident of Southern California, with years of experience in the field of nutrition and home economics.

In addition to the 200 recipes in the book, she offers bits of lemon lore and historical facts, along with menus and suggestions. One quite interesting bit gives us the origin of lemonade, that special standby of our Southern summers and of enterprising "youngsters" with their "lemonade stands."

It seems that a drop in the price of West Indian sugar long, long ago—in 1630, to be exact—inspired sidewalk cafe proprietors in Paris to devise or invent lemonade!

Owners of the sidewalk cafes of Paris subsequently became known as limonadiers!

There are more than a hundred drawings depicting "How to Use the Lemon" with instructions for making lemon "boats" as sauce containers, lemon twists and twirls, and so on, along with the nutritional and historical notes.

The "Party Starters" chapter is especially interesting and useful. A recipe I like is:

Protection for the way you live

September is first-ever National Chicken Month

September is National Chicken Month—a good time to discover new ways to serve one of America's favorite foods.

This month-long celebration, with special events and promotions, highlights chicken as "The Smart Meal."

Low in calories, cholesterol and fat content, chicken is the ideal food for those who recognize the importance of good nutrition in maintaining health and fitness.

Chicken is a great meal choice any day of the year but the National Broiler Council, which is sponsoring this first-ever National Chicken Month, notes that September is especially timely for enjoying chicken-centered meals. The weather is still warm enough for outdoor cookouts and grilled chicken is a coast-to-coast favorite.

With summer vacations over and kids returning to school, families settle into a more normal routine of wholesome family meals. Of course, that means busy schedules, often with little time to spend in the kitchen.

But today's chicken is available in many time-saving forms—cooked and ready to heat and eat; marinated in microwavable pouches; boneless breasts or thighs that cook overnight.

Drain, and serve with frilly cocktail picks. Add a pound of shrimp, if desired. (Five cups) in minutes and combine with nourishing vegetables or fruits for quick and easy stir-fry meals.

The fall sports season is gearing up, too. No tailgate picnic is complete without fried chicken.

Chicken salad, wings and nuggets for dipping, and hearty chicken breath sandwiches are other tailgate favorites.

And for informal gatherings

after the game, nothing is better than a chicken casserole waiting in the refrigerator, ready to pop in the oven when the hungry gang arrives.

There are so many different ways to prepare chicken it could be served every day of the year without repeating the same dish.

Here is one example—Easy

Chicken Gumbo For Two—developed by the National

Broiler Council. It can be halved for one or doubled for four.

Boneless thighs or any favorite chicken part can be substituted for drumsticks. And it takes only about half an hour to prepare.

EASY

FOR TWO

4 broiler-fryer chicken

drumsticks

1 teaspoon salt, divided

1/4 teaspoon chili powder

1/8 teaspoon pepper

2 tablespoons vegetable oil

2 teaspoons dehydrated

onion

1 can (14½ ounces) stewed tomatoes with onion, celery and green peppers

1 bay leaf

8 ounces (half of 16-ounce package) frozen gumbo

vegetables

In small bowl, mix together

1/2 teaspoon of the salt, chili powder and pepper; sprinkle on chicken. In frypan, place oil and heat to medium temperature.

Add chicken and cook, turning, about 10 minutes or until brown and crisp on all sides.

Pour off any accumulated oil.

Sprinkle chicken with dehydrated onion; add stewed tomatoes, gumbo vegetables, remaining 1/2 teaspoon salt and bay leaf. Bring to a boil, cover and reduce heat to low.

Cook about 20 minutes or until fork can be inserted in chicken with ease. (If less liquid in gumbo is desired, uncover and let boil on high about 5 minutes.) Serve over rice in shallow bowls. Makes 2 servings.

THIS LAND IS YOUR LAND

By Joe Pilet

Hats off to our garbage collectors!

If I were asked to name the most important people in my life I would say these people are on my street twice a week. I do not know their names, but I do know the services they offer are very important. Their job is to collect trash and garbage.

They do it quietly, efficiently and can be depended on rain or shine, hot or cold. Try to imagine what our town would look like if we had no service to remove unwanted trash and collected garbage, cans and bottles.

Have you noticed that sometimes a property will be passed up? No pickup. Perhaps the owners of the property failed to read instructions on how to handle limb prunings, or twigs, branches, etc. that are cleared from the grounds.

Here is what to do to insure a pickup. Tie limbs, twigs, etc in a bunch. If some of the limbs are longer than six feet, chop them to required lengths.

When piling the debris, be careful that none of the accumulation reaches out into the streets where it could cause an accident or scratch the paint on passing cars.

Getting suitable material to use in tying is both cheap and easy. Old discarded table cloths, sheets, curtains, etc. can be torn into strips. When your home supply runs out, try Goodwill. They sell these things for a paltry sum.

Do your strips while listening to your radio programs and you will be amazed at the number of uses you'll find for these things such as for plants that have weak stalks, tying boxes for storage, etc.

It's a plus for your street when garbage pails are returned to the back of property as soon as possible after they are emptied. Yes, the garbage collectors are very important people.

Budget

The mayor, respective district councilman and city department heads will be available at the workshops to receive comments and answer questions.

The proposed budget total, including both general and utility funds, as submitted to the council at a meeting last month, is $5,279,650. The figure constitutes a $275,000 reduction over last year's budget.

"No new administration likes having to start off with a $275,000 cut over last year's budget, but that is what we are doing," Favre said when he presented the budget to the council.

While the municipal tax rate will not increase, the total tax bill will reflect an increase due to an approximately 14 percent hike in Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District taxes.

The mayor stressed that, by utilizing free labor and restructuring the city's work force, the city actually hopes to increase services despite the budget decrease.

"We have a basic budget that will provide services. It's going to be a challenge—a big challenge. Our workers are going to have to streamline affairs as much as possible," Favre said.

"We are going to the people for comments on the budget. This is probably the most important thing we will do all year. While we have a proposal, it is easy to change numbers—but not after it is finalized," the mayor said following his initial presentation to the council.

Since 1890, we've been making loans to homeowners so we've really got the hang of it.

And it follows that we'd know the ropes on financing vacations. So it's easy to see why so many thrifty Hancock and Harrison County travelers look to us for vacation loans to exotic places.

Grant

which brought up questions regarding a missing stop sign.

The second installment of the grant provides new materials to the city, but Bay St. Louis must provide its own labor to install the new signs.

Hanchey said old signs are not being reused because they have lost their reflectivity, which is a safety factor, and because many are in such poor condition they must be scrapped anyway.

The grant terms require that the materials be used only on non-Federal Aid Urban Systems streets, but Redmond said the city is trying to overlap in as many intersections as possible.

"If we're doing a non-system street running into Old Spanish Trail and it's a four-way stop, we can cover some of it by putting up all four stop signs," Redmond said, adding that the second phase of the project should be finished sometime this month.

About $5,000 is available for the third installment of the grant.

The major factor in all three parts of the sign project is safety, Redmond stated.

"People in a small town get used to not looking at signs at all. If the sign is raised higher, it can be seen from 20 feet away as you come up on it, but you may not see it if you go all the way up to the corner and then look," he said.

"And people will do that. They get used to stopping at the corner and then they look."

He also cautions drivers to be careful because there will be signs in some areas which have not had any for years, or have never had any but has needed them.

"What has been really weird is that people have been getting the wrong idea about the whole purpose of this, from the calls we've been getting."

"People have been thinking that the main issue is vandalism, but it's safety and the city's ability to obtain liability insurance," Redmond said.

"People were asking why we were spending all this money just to curb vandalism."

THE SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1989-1B

Time Out

By Dena Bishette

It's soccer time again! The Gulf Coast high school football started and soccer is following on its clear-adorned heels. Most of the Gulf Coast soccer programs are still in the process of conducting registration or try-outs, and college programs are already about two weeks into their seasons. It won't be long before youngsters are using every available field for after-school practices and weekend games. Let's hope everybody has a safe and fun season.

Bay Area Youth Soccer is getting ready to kick off another season, starting with a meeting for coaches, parents, sponsors and officials at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in the Waveland Library.

Registration begins at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Virginia Hall (Christ Episcopal Church), but several other dates have been scheduled.

In addition, try-outs for the Boys Under-14 Select team will be from 9 a.m.-11 a.m. Saturday and 4 p.m.-6 p.m. Sunday at Waveland Elementary School's soccer field.

There are also two South Mississippi Soccer Club teams with tryouts scheduled this week.

The Under-14 Boys Select try-outs, open to all coast boys born in 1976 or 1977, will be Saturday and Sunday. A $40 fee is required, but is refundable if a player is not selected.

Information is available from Coach Martin Rollins at 863-2561.

The St. Ing Under-16 Girls registration is open to any girl born in 1974 or 1975. Coach Paul Moersdorf at 864-2561 can provide registration information.

While we're talking about soccer, the William Carey Crusaders have a home game at 4 p.m. Tuesday against Milsaps College.

Carry, which clinched the 1987 and 1988 district championship as well as the 1988 area championship and the NAIA National Tournament title, has its home soccer field at the coast campus in Gulfport.

The team's roster doesn't include any Hancock Countians this year, but local youngsters who have attended soccer clinics at the school will be remembered by Coach Doug Stovall.

Don't forget football, though. Local high school games Friday include St. Stanislaus at Bay High and Hancock North Central at Pearl River Central. Kick-off time for both is 7:30 p.m.

The local version of the annual St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Bike-A-Thon will be Oct. 7. Stanley Robert of Diamondhead is serving as coordinator.

Anyone interested in participating as riders or sponsors should call Robert at 255-1278. Rider sponsor forms are available at Cycles Plus Bicycle Shop, Main Street, Bay St. Louis.

Jim Turcotte of Bay St. Louis finished third in Saturday's Flagship Festival Run in Pascagoula. He turned in a time of 20:30 for the 5K in the 50-54 division.

We haven't had a female runner from this area finish in the top three of her division in the last few races, but we did better Saturday—JoAnn Mumme of Waveland was second in the women's 50-54 division with a time of 30:57.

Cycles Plus Bicycle Club has a 25-mile ride scheduled for Sunday. For those familiar with some of the local bicycle routes, this one is the "Family Grocery Loop."

Anyone who wants to participate should meet at U.S. 90 and Bayview Drive in Henderson Point at 8 a.m. For more details, call Cycles Plus at 467-1706.

SECTION B

Rocks, Tigers to clash Friday

Last week, the Pass High Pirates had a few surprises in store for the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws. The Rocks barely squeaked by with a 14-13 win to open their regular season.

Bay High, on the other hand, dropped their season opener against Pearl River, La.

Tomorrow night the Rocks face Bay High on Tiger turf, and the Tigers also may have a few tricks up their sleeve.

"Pass High was a lot stronger than anyone had speculated," commented SSC head coach Ken Lyons, speaking of last Friday's contest at Rock-A-Chaw Stadium.

"It's hard to say what Bay will do," he continued. "I feel like they'll have a few surprises for us."

According to the Rock-A-Chaw coach, the Tigers are in a rebuilding situation with Tiger coach Dodd Lee in his first year at the head position.

"I saw them play in the spring against Poplarville and Hancock North Central," Lyons said. "They've got some speedy backs, and their quarterback got off some quick passes in the (spring) Jamboree. Defensively, they've got some multiple fronts we're going to have to prepare for."

Lee said his team has a couple of problems in going up against St. Stanislaus. One is the different size of the schools. SSC is a 4-A school, while Bay High falls into the smaller 3-A classification.

Lee, who inherited the schedule when he became head coach this season, explained, "Five times out of 10 (games on our schedule), we're playing schools in divisions larger than ours."

A second problem is lack of practice time for several players who have been ill.

"We hope to have them back by Friday," Lee said. "But they're not honing their skills when they're missing practice and I'm not sure they'll be able to play their best game."

Such problems are particularly difficult for the Tigers due to a lack of depth this year on a young team with only about 25 players.

The first game jitters, though, have already happened.

"We hope our kids get excited and play really hard," Lee said.

"We need to contain their quarterback, Cedric Smith, and Shannon Garrett, Brian Alexander and Ken Booker. They're all running backs or receivers, but they're doing quite a bit of both."

The game is not a district or conference contest, but that does not matter to Lee.

"We play every game like it means the play-offs. We try not to over-emphasize or under-emphasize a particular game, but sometimes you do. You can't help it. We've just got to put our minds to it and play hard," the coach stated.

Since 1968, the Bay High Tigers and the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws have met 21 times on the football field.

Tomorrow at 7:30, the teams will meet for the 22nd time at Tiger Stadium. In the 21-year series, the Tigers have won 10 games, while the Rocks hold a one-game advantage, winning 11.

For the past two years, SSC has come out on top. In 1987, the score was 22-18 in favor of the Rock-A-Chaws; and in 1988

Braves stop CEHS Warriors

The Coast Episcopal High School Raiders fell to the Warrior Academy Braves last Saturday night, 22 to 6. The Raiders now stand at 0-3 for the season.

In the first quarter, the Braves scored two quick touchdowns and led 14 to 0. The Raiders came back in the second quarter with a 35-yard touchdown pass from freshman backup quarterback Tyrone Jones to senior Billy Guice to bring the score to 14-6.

The Raiders held the Braves until the fourth quarter when they scored their final touchdown making the final score 22 to 6.

Coach Jack Hutchison said the game was much closer than the score indicated.

"Defensively, we played a great game with the exception of two plays; Warrior Academy only scored three first downs all night long," said Hutchison.

"I was disappointed in the play of our offense. They just could not get going, and we failed to make some key plays.

Freshman Tyrone Jones did a good job coming off the bench to play quarterback," he said.

Bay Area Youth Soccer fall registration slated

Bay Area Youth Soccer will begin its 1989-90 season next week. Officers and commissioners for this year are Bernard Tusa, president; Ronnie LaFontaine, vice president; Curtis Colson, secretary; Mark Uram, treasurer; Richard Flowers, registrar and Under-6 and 8 commissioner; Timmy Kingston, Under-10 commissioner; Milton Bernard, Under-12 commissioner; Tom Demboski, Under 14, 16 and 19 commissioner; and Eddie Farve, girls commissioner.

There will be a meeting for coaches, sponsors, officials and parents on Sunday, Sept. 10 at 7:30 p.m. at the Waveland Library.

Registration for the new soccer season will begin on Tuesday, Sept. 12 at 7:30 to 9 p.m. at Christ Episcopal Church Virginia Hall in Bay St. Louis, and again at St. Clare cafeteria in Waveland on Sept. 14 at 7:30 to 9 p.m. Registration will also be held on Sept. 16, 19, 21 and 23 at times and locations to be announced. Tentative plans are for registrations at the Middle School, North Bay and Bay Catholic Schools as well as other locations.

All boys and girls between the ages of five to 18 are eligible to register to play soccer. The registration fee for recreational soccer is $25 per youth.

Anyone interested in coaching, refereeing or assisting should attend the soccer meeting to be held Sept. 10.

Tryouts for an Under-14 Select Boys team will be held by the Bay Area Youth Soccer Organization on Saturday, Sept. 9 from 9 to 11 a.m. and on Sunday, Sept. 10 from 4 to 6 p.m. at the Waveland Elementary School. Registration

BWYC try for four cups fails in Lipton Regatta

The Labor Day Weekend's Lipton Cup, hosted by the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club, resulted in an upset after the order of finish was changed.

It appeared that Pass Christian Yacht Club had its first Lipton title in the 70-year-old annual regatta Sunday, but a protest filed Saturday threw out Pass Christian's first three races.

The protest involved a measurement on Pass Christian's Flying Scot, which the protesters claimed did not meet race specifications.

The protest reportedly involved a piece of wire used to lower the jib.

Under standard procedure, have the right to appeal the judges' ruling.

Ponchatrain Yacht Club of Mandeville, La., won its first Lipton title, scoring 15 points. Southern Yacht Club of New Orleans also finished the regatta with 15 points but lost the title to Ponchatrain when a tie-breaker formula was applied.

Ponchatrain had won the first two races of the four-race series.

Champion Bay-Waveland Yacht Club, which has won 12 Liptons since 1971, lost its bid for four in a row, finishing with 16 3/4 points. Gulfport was fourth.

Race Committee Chairman Walter Chamberlain said he thought the races were somewhat better than in previous Liptons hosted by Bay-Waveland, and that everything both in the water and onshore, as far as race procedures were concerned, went very well.

He said the weather was good, but "not once during the whole regatta did we have our typical south breeze, which didn't help the home team very much."

The next event scheduled at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club is the Monk Smith Regatta Sept. 30 and Oct. 1. The event will include some Optimist competition, Flying Scot races and some handicap races to be sailed outside the bridge.

Deer camp permit no longer required

Remember those hunting seasons not too long ago when you had to get a permit before you set up a deer camp?

Remember those days no more. The deer-camp permit is dead, reminds the Department of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks.

First established in the early 1950s, the permit helped game wardens locate concentrations of deer hunters. It required hunters to report their harvest, giving state wildlife officials an estimate of statewide deer kills.

Fishing outlived its usefulness, the deer-camp permit has given way to more sophisticated techniques for gathering biological data and keeping tabs on Mississippi's growing deer herd. Gov. Ray Mabus signed a bill ending the permit during the last legislative session.

Annual dove seasons set for hunters

Mississippi hunters know that the hunting season is just around the corner. But the real news they have been waiting for is this year's preliminary dates for the dove and migratory bird season.

The first dove season opened Sept. 2 and closes Sept. 24, with the second season opening Oct. 14 and ending Oct. 28. The third season opens Dec. 24 and ends Jan. 14, it was announced by the Mississippi Department of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks.

Hunters will have a total of 60 days of dove shooting, with a daily bag limit of 15 and a possession limit of 30. A possession limit is not permitted on the opening day of any season.

According to the latest figures available from the Mississippi Department of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks, dove hunters harvest more than 3 million mourning doves in the Magnolia State each year.

Other tentative migratory bird seasons include woodcock, which opens Dec. 26 and extends through Feb. 28. The daily limit is 5 and the possession limit is 10.

The season on clapper, king, sora, Virginia rails, common moorhens, and purple gallinules opens Oct. 14 and ends Dec. 22. The daily limit is 15 and the possession limit is 30, except on sora and Virginia rails, where the bag limit and possession limit is 25.

Common snipe hunting begins Nov. 14 and closes Feb. 28. The daily limit is 8 and the possession limit is 16.

Wildlife biologists say that weather permitting, this year's hunting season should be good.

Shooting hours will be one-half hour before sunrise until sunset.

Officials say that even though the dates announced are preliminary, they are not likely to change.

Conservation enforcement authorities are reminding hunters that migratory birds are protected by state and federal laws. Hunters must have their shotguns plugged and incapable of holding more than three shells.

Hunters must have a valid hunting license signed and on their person before going afield.

Hunters asked to avoid hitting telephone lines

With the opening of dove season, South Central Bell District Manager Pat Santucci asks hunters to be extremely careful when they shoot.

Doves often perch on telephone lines and poles, Santucci noted and bird shots can puncture cables and cause out of service conditions.

According to Santucci, damaged lines hurt everyone. When customers are without service, the company must make time consuming and expensive repairs.

The party responsible could be billed for the damage. Hunters are asked to shoot carefully when near telephone lines or equipment to avoid damage.

Hancock takes to the road to meet Pearl River Central

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock North Central Hawks, fresh from their first victory over conference rival Iberville, travel to Pearl River Central in Carriere Friday to take on the Blue Devils.

Hancock Head Coach Irvin Favre said he is expecting a tough game out of PRC.

"They got beat last week 15-14 by Poplarville, but it was right down in the last minute. Poplarville went for two and just made it," Favre said.

His team's performance in practices has been uneven this week, leaving Favre concerned going into the game.

"We had a good practice Monday, but Tuesday wasn't that good," the coach said before Wednesday afternoon's practice began. "I'm worried we might be a little complacent because we had that big victory Friday."

"We've got our hands full. This is a big rivalry, particularly on their side. For some reason, Pearl River puts more emphasis on it than we do."

"It's a non-district game, but we've been playing them for years."

"We're going to have to show our best execution on both sides, both offensively and defensively," he said. "We can't be stale on any side of the ball. And, our kicking game needs to come through for us again," the coach added.

One aspect of the game against Iberville that Favre feels must be improved in this week's game is pass defense.

Among the players to watch on Hancock's side again this week will be Terrence Goff.

"He's a fine athlete, and we expect a lot from him every week," said Favre.

Another is Casey Davis, starting quarterback.

"We'll need to get another good game from him this week for us," Favre said, "and we'll need blocking from our big line and then we'll have to turn around and play well on defense."

Kick-off time is 7:30 p.m.

UNO Fall Tournament set

The University of New Orleans will hold its Four Seasons Fall Tennis Tournament Sept. 15-17 at the tennis courts on the UNO East Campus. Entry deadline is 6 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 13 with play beginning at 6 p.m. Friday, Sept. 15.

Events, which are open to the public, include men's championship (open), men's singles (A, B and C divisions), men's doubles (A and B divisions), women's singles (championship, B and C divisions), women's doubles (A and B divisions), and mixed doubles (open and B divisions).

Trophies will be awarded to first and second place in all divisions. Fees are $12, singles and $18 per team, doubles. There is an additional $2 fee for all phone entries.

Participants also must provide a can of new yellow U.S. Tennis Association approved balls. Balls will be provided for the finals.

Play will consist of the best two out of three sets. No ad rule will be in effect for this tournament until the semifinals.

For information and entry forms, call Charlotte Corne Blundell, UNO department of recreation and intramural sports, (504) 286-6359.

I'm Al Corban of Total Comfort Heating and Air Conditioning. I've been your Carrier Heat Pump dealer in Hancock County since 1974. While we service all makes and models of heating and air conditioning equipment, we specialize in the installation of the Carrier Tech 2000 Heat Pump.

Consider this; if you replace a typical old 6 S.E.E.R. central air conditioner with Carrier's best Tech 2000 heat pump, you could cut your cooling bills by 25%.

So whether you need fast, efficient service on your existing system or want a free estimate on a new Carrier Tech 2000 heat pump, come see us at 2109 Nicholson Avenue in Waveland or call us at 467-1212.

All of our trucks are equipped with 2 way radios and all our service people are factory trained.

Announcing the First Baby Program at Slidell Memorial Hospital

Your first pregnancy is a special event that brings many changes into your life, and it's difficult to know what to expect. Slidell Memorial Hospital understands that your needs are different from other expectant women, so we've developed a unique program just for first time mothers.

Special Surprises, Special Moments

Slidell Memorial Hospital's First Baby program welcomes you and your spouse to Parenthood with a special first time Baby Shower, complete with surprises and amenities for the first time mother. And, our team of nurses, physicians, and staff are always available to answer your questions about the experience and expectations of childbirth and parenting.

Comfortable, Safe Surroundings

Our Labor, Delivery and Recovery Suites (LDRs)

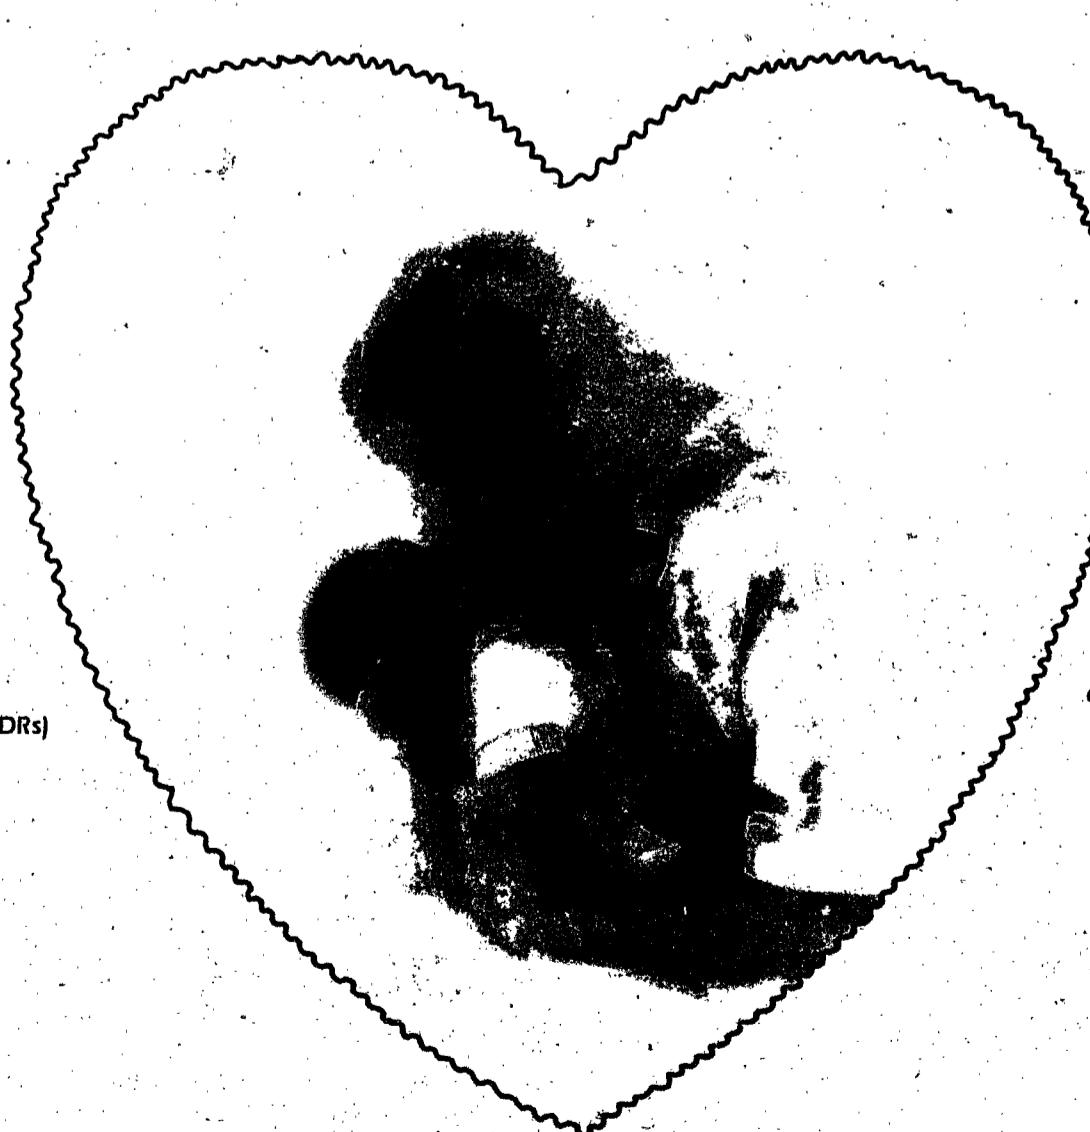

provide a warm and comfortable birthing experience for new mothers. This all-in-one-room delivery is part of our one-price maternity package. Slidell Memorial Hospital is the only hospital in the North Lake area with a Neonatal Intensive Care Unit that is staffed around the clock by Neonatologists and a fully-equipped transport team.

Because Your First Baby Is Special

Slidell Memorial Hospital has delivered thousands of babies over the last 30 years, giving us the experience and understanding that sets us apart. The First Baby program combines that experience and understanding with the special "extras" a first time mother needs. We'd like to share your First Baby birthing experience at Slidell Memorial Hospital. Just call us at 646-0560 for more information. We'll fill you in on all the special details.

Five to be inducted into UM Sports Hall of Fame

Five new members will be inducted into The University of Mississippi Athletic Hall of Fame during 2 p.m. ceremonies Saturday, Sept. 23 at the Rama-Da Renaissance ballroom in Jackson.

The University's M-Club Alumni Chapter, which chose the inductees, and the school's Alumni Association are hosting the event and encouraging all alumni and supporters who are in Jackson for the Ole Miss-Arkansas football game to attend.

The public is also invited to a 3 p.m. reception for the honorees, all former Ole Miss athletes between 1960-65.

The honorees are: Allen Brown of Natchez; Kenneth Dean Dill and West Point; Jerry Dean "Jake" Gibbs of Oxford; Wilburn Glynn Griffing of Jackson; and Donald E. Kessinger of Memphis, Tenn.

The M-Club Alumni Chapter established the Athletic Hall of Fame in 1986 and inducted 27 charter members who earned some of their athletic fame at Ole Miss prior to 1940.

Seventeen athletes who played or coached at Ole Miss during the 1940s were inducted in 1987, and 24 who played or coached at Ole Miss during the '50s were inducted in 1988.

A permanent plaque bearing the names of all inductees hangs in the lobby of the Ole Miss Union.

ON ETV

HOW TO PAINT
How to paint in oils— everything from portraits to landscapes—is the topic of a new "how-to" program premiering on Mississippi ETV at 2:30 p.m., Saturday, September 9.

"Welcome to My Studio with Helen Van Wyk" is a complete introductory course in oil painting.

The 13 programs in this series cover topics like highlights, texture, brushwork, shadows, backgrounds and choosing a focal point.

Also studied are how to use the techniques of the old masters, how to make edges instead of lines and how to paint portraits and landscapes.

PRC Wildcats defeat Itawamba 25-21

The Pearl River Community College Wildcats scored two touchdowns in the final three minutes to come from behind and defeat Itawamba 25-21 in non-division junior college action Saturday night.

Down 21-13 with 7:55 to play in the game, the Wildcats marched 80 yards in 10 plays, culminated by a five-yard scoring run by tailback Cedric Anderson with 2:36 remaining. The try for two failed, and the Wildcats trailed 21-19.

But Itawamba fumbled the ensuing kickoff and former Forrest County AHS star Monwell Magee recovered at the Indian 19-yard line. From there, PRC took four plays and scored the winning points on a Michael Toefield four-yard touchdown run with 30 seconds left in the game. The Wildcats used three freshman quarterbacks—Mel Hackbart, Lance Taylor, Reginald Austin—in the game, and all drew praise from Wildcat coach Mike Nelson.

"I liked what they accomplished," said Nelson. "They all made freshman mistakes but they'll come around. Our defense took about a quarter to gel, but I was pleased how they played after the first quarter."

Former Oak Grove quarterback Hackbart threw an interception that the Indians' Tony Collier returned 72 yards for a touchdown. It put the Indians ahead 14-13 just before the first half ended. But Hackbart came on late in the game to direct the Wildcats' final two touchdown drives. He finished the night passing 4-for-10 for 76 yards.

After spotting the Indians an early 7-0 lead, PRC came back with two touchdowns in the second quarter on a Taylor to Terry Carter four-yard touchdown pass play and an eight-yard run by Toefield.

Pearl River's defensive team was very sluggish in the early going as Itawamba marched 70 yards in eight plays to score. The unit had plenty of time to get rolling, however, as the Wildcat offensive bunch kept the ball only three downs before punting back to the Indians.

Itawamba kept the ball for nine plays before its 37-yard field goal attempt never got off the ground. The Wildcats scored on their next possession by covering 59 yards in five plays with Taylor hitting Carter on the four-yard pass.

PRC's defense was immediately tested again as the Wildcats fumbled the football away on their own 36 and 41. Once the Indians were stopped on downs and another time a 45-yard field goal was wide right.

PRC took the lead after recovering a fumble at the Itawamba eight-yard line. It took only one play for Toefield to score.

After the late first-half gift, and a scoreless third quarter, the Indians took over at the PRC 33 and marched in with a four-yard run by Michael Williams. The extra point gave Itawamba a 21-13 lead with 12:48 remaining in the contest.

Pearl River's eighth-yard march began after the Indians fumbled into the PRC endzone for a touchback. The Indians began that drive at the Wildcat 18-yard line.

Behind Hackbart the Wildcats marched the 80 yards in 10 plays to score. Cedric Anderson took the ball in from the five. On the ensuing kickoff, Collier fumbled to set up the winning score.

Pearl River, 1-0, will host Hinds this Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at Dobie Holden Stadium.

MSU Bulldogs, Eagles to clash before sellout crowd Saturday

Two teams flying high following exciting season-opening wins collide at M. M. Roberts Stadium in Hattiesburg when Mississippi State visits Southern Mississippi Saturday night.

The Bulldogs posted a 42-7 win over Southeastern Conference foe Vanderbilt in Starkville last weekend for their 10th consecutive season-opening win. The Golden Eagles also opened the year successfully, stunning sixth-ranked Florida State 30-26 in Jacksonville, Fla. A sellout crowd of 33,000 is expected for the 7 p.m. kickoff this weekend in Hattiesburg.

Saturday's game marks the 26th gridiron meeting between Mississippi State and Southern Mississippi. USM owns a 14-10-1 edge in the series, which began in Nov. 15, 1935 with a 27-0 Mississippi State win in Hattiesburg.

The Golden Eagles have taken the lead in the series with on-the-field wins in the last three and 10 of the last 12 MSU-USM matchups.

Eagles stun FSU

Saturday's 30-26 season-opening decision over nationally sixth-ranked Florida State may not have been the biggest win in University of Southern Mississippi football history, but certainly it has to fit quite comfortably into any list you might want to put together.

Head coach Curley Hallman left no doubt about his feelings. "It's certainly the biggest victory I've ever been associated with, and I've been around what I consider some big ones," he said postgame.

USM certainly didn't dominate the game, committing enough turnovers to make a young coach prematurely old; but, in the clutch, the Eagles did everything right.

Junior Brett Favre had another outstanding day, 21 of 39 for 282 yards and two touchdowns, and as usual he spread them around with no fewer than 10 receivers catching at least one and seven players getting two or more.

Rickey Bradley and Reginald Warnsley combined for 127 yards rushing, Scott Bryant punted three times for a 42.3 yard average, walk-on Chuck Davis was perfect in his place-kicking chores with a 22-yard field goal and three of three extra points, and defensively (unofficially) Pat Jackson had nine stops, Kerry Valrie seven and a fumble recovery, William Kirksey and Tony Pogue six each and Ben Washington and Rod Reed five each.

And while the offense was coughing it up occasionally, the defense was doing its part, forcing and recovering three FSU miscues, and containing a potent Seminole offense.

However sweet the victory was though, and as much as coach Hallman and the players were enjoying its postgame, Hallman was more than aware of the road ahead.

But whatever lies ahead, it will be more than the eight or 10 hours the coaches and players allow themselves before USM fans are ready to put aside the FSU game—USM 30, FSU 26.

THE SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1989-1C

Task Force tackles problems of youth

BY D.C. HARVILL

While it may be as natural as the dawning day and an unavoidable necessity of life, the physical, emotional and ous problems with which they are faced.

The primary goal of the task force is to arm the public, especially teens, with the knowledge unwed. I see many who are having their second or third child—unwed," she said.

"I contacted Dr. (Roger) Oge (then Bay-Waveland Superintendent of Education) to find out what was being done in the school system to educate school children to help prevent or slow down teenage pregnancies. Nothing was being done," Polozola said.

Since that original contact, the task force has implemented the "Pierre the Pelican" program designed to help unwed mothers care for themselves during pregnancy, childbirth, and to care for the child after it is born.

The program provides the information in the form of free, monthly newsletters during pregnancy, birth and the child's first year of development.

After the child reaches one year old and until his sixth birthday, the newsletter is available on a quarterly basis.

Areas covered by the newsletters include prenatal care, feeding, weaning, thumb sucking and toilet training.

The program currently has a mailing list of approximately 100, most of whom Polozola came into contact with at the hospital.

The task force now has display stands with subscription mail-in cards located throughout the county.

The service is available to anyone expecting or who has a small child and needs information, Polozola said.

"Apathy is the biggest problem. Nobody has taken the time to assess the problem in the county. There are a number of people involved after there is a problem. But a preventative type program is definitely needed," said Celeste Proulx, a social worker with the Department of Human Services and a member of the task force.

"We really need some legislative work to allow schools to teach sex education from kindergarten up," Proulx said.

The task force recently established a board of educators to review curriculums from other schools around the country in an attempt to create a family health type curriculum in the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School System, according to Polozola.

The goal of the curriculum would be to promote mental as well as physical health, improve self-esteem and teach that it is alright to say no to sex as well as drugs and alcohol, she said.

"We would like to see this kind of education begin in kindergarten. High school home economics teachers tell me many of the students who take their classes are already pregnant and know they need the class," Polozola said.

The quality of life in their homes is a major part of the problem. Many of the teens who appear before the Hancock County Youth Court have poor or in some case nearly nonexistent home lives.

Task force member (Youth Court) Judge Michael Haas sees a lot of young run-away and repeat run-away girls come through youth court who have less than desirable home lives.

He suggested that we set up an education program, so if we have to send them back into that environment they can at least be educated in ways to better deal with it," Polozola said.

Now all young girls who go through youth court must attend the classes conducted by Polozola, herself a mother of five.

"It just breaks your heart, most of the girls who come to me have no real home life and have seriously damaged self-esteem," she said.

Among the topics covered in the classes are self-esteem, self-image, pregnancy prevention, sexually transmitted diseases and anatomy. The girls who go through the classes are provided with a packet of information and must view an educational film.

"We try to educate them so that, if they go back into a bad environment, they can see alternatives and can become career oriented. We try to work with them to see what goals they have and help them get on track.

"Most kids just follow the path of least resistance. Many of them do nothing but sit around in parking lots or on the beach on Friday and Saturday nights drinking beer," she said.

One of the biggest obstacles faced by those trying to help troubled youths, ironically, is their parents.

"We've got to find a way to reach the kids without offending the parents," Polozola said.

"The program has been well accepted by the girls. I get more hugs and thank yous than any-financial burdens of childbirth can and do irreversibly alter lives.

When it is a teenager upon whom those burdens fall, the consequences are compounded. Unfortunately, an abnormally high number of births in Hancock County are to unwed teenagers.

The inordinately high teenage birth rate has prompted the creation of programs to help teens and other unwed mothers cope with pregnancy, childbirth and the resulting challenges of raising a child.

The Community Youth Task Force, a group of community leaders, recently was formed to help teens deal with the numerneeded to better face and overcome the problems associated with today's youth.

Among the targets of the task force are teen pregnancy, alcohol and drugs, and the lack of constructive recreation.

"All of these are weak areas locally," said Janet Polozola, task force member and childbirth instructor at Hancock Medical Center.

"We decided that teen pregnancy was our priority area and that education was the best means of dealing with that," Polozola said.

"I was quite shocked to find out about the unwed childbirth rate here. The majority of mothers in my classes are needed to better face and overcome the problems associated with today's youth.

BACK TO NATURE

Swifts are assets to chimney owners leave voids in my life.

Several years ago a friend of mine found an injured Chimney Swift. As usual, that's all it takes for me to develop a keen awareness of a particular species. At the time, I was familiar with the bird, but having one in hand made me realize how Nature had outdone itself once again.

To begin with, a Chimney Swift eats insects while flying. Its mouth is very wide to enhance its chances of catching an insect. The bill is very short. The bird is the color of charcoal.

Now, I don't think that has anything to do with helping it to look spiffy after it has cleaned our chimneys with its wing movements, but more than likely it was for camouflage against cliffs where it originally nested, before chimneys.

The tail is very short and straight across with several protruding "feathers" that are as strong as needles. This is for support against rocks. And last, the legs are very short for it does most of its clinging against rocks and bricks.

I remember holding the bird in my hand amazed that every part of this bird is adapted for its life's duties.

One of my most common phone calls is, "How do I get rid of these birds in my chimney?" This is a question that this writer cannot understand! I would give anything to have Chimney Swifts choose my chimney, but so far no luck. They are noisy. I know, I know. But just think. We spend a fortune erecting Purple Martin houses to get that insect-eating bird and with Chimney Swifts you have no money to spend! Look on the bright side.

Also, the action of the bird's wings as they come to and fro in the chimney to build their mud-type cup nests against the bricks will eliminate the need for you to call the chimney sweep. Consoled yet?

Most people who realize the part this bird plays in the overall picture of our environment enjoy the bird's noisiness. Although they do report that the young begging the parents for food can get downright raucous.

September's here, though, and soon they will migrate to South America. Usually the first cool front to come through in October will take along the few remaining swifts. (Some people call 'em Chimney Sweeps!) But for now, those that nested in my neighbors' chimneys are dwindling daily. I miss them.

South America. Usually the first cool front to come through in October will take along the few remaining swifts. (Some people call 'em Chimney Sweeps!) But for now, those that nested in my neighbors' chimneys are dwindling daily. I miss them.

I laugh and marvel and find that I have a hard time concentrating on conversations. (My eyes are drawn to them.) The birds are too cute and here for too short a time to waste a moment. They too will decrease in numbers with the cool weather, so I must grab every chance to enjoy them. Now!

If I sound sad, you misunderstand me. Yes, I miss each one. But I know that as sure as the sun rises and seasons come and go, so do the birds. They will return, predictably. Their leaving assures me almost as much as their arriving.

Thought for this time: We must protect our area, our yard and that which we can, to give each species, each bird, a good, safe place to return to.

By LYDIA SCHULTZ

A few weeks make a big difference. The sun is setting a little farther to the north. There are no more birds shaking their wings at their parents. Their begging calls can no longer be northerly breeze lurking about. Thank God for these signs to let us know Fall is just around the corner.

One other sign though is readily apparent to me. There are no more Chimney Swifts flitting and flipping through the air. Their joyous tweets that I mindlessly notice every day during summer are now noticeably gone. It brings home to me how I come to take for granted, for a few short months, certain birds that, when gone, heard from inside the house. The Cardinal no longer sings his mating call. Most birds are moulting or immatures.

Occasionally, even in the midst of this wretched, hateful heat, I get a glimpse of the bush that moves only when there is a northerly breeze lurking about. Thank God for these signs to let us know Fall is just around the corner.

northerly breeze lurking about. Thank God for these signs to let us know Fall is just around the corner.

One other sign though is readily apparent to me. There are no more Chimney Swifts flitting and flipping through the air. Their joyous tweets that I mindlessly notice every day during summer are now noticeably gone. Robert to coordinate St. Jude Hospital Diamondhead Bike-A-Thon fundraiser St. Jude Children's Research Hospital announced that Stanley Robert will coordinate the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital "Wheels For Life" Bike-A-Thon in Diamondhead on Oct. 7.

Founded by Danny Thomas in 1962, St. Jude Children's Research Hospital is the largest childhood cancer research-treatment-education center in America. St. Jude Hospital is non-sectarian, interracial and provides medical care for more than 3,200 active patients. Currently, more than $185,000 is needed each day to keep the doors open. These funds come primarily from public contributions.

The Bike-A-Thon program this year is dedicated to Ellen Marie Haynes. Five-year-old Ellen Marie, from Rossville, Ga., developed a malignant tumor in her abdomen in June, 1986. After treatment at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, which consisted of surgery, radiation and chemotherapy, Ellen Marie was taken off all therapy in January, 1987. Although she isn't cured of her cancer yet, her prognosis is good.

"We are grateful for the concern that Mr. Robert has for our work. We hope the citizens of Diamondhead, Bay St. Louis and Waveland will support the Bike-A-Thon to help provide the funds that are needed to preserve the world's greatest asset, our children," said a St. Jude spokesman.

Those interested as riders and sponsors, please contact Stanley Robert at 255-1278. Rider sponsor forms are available at Cycles Plus on Main Street in Bay St. Louis.

Students representing the 136th graduating class of St. Stanislaus High School in Bay St. Louis received their senior class rings at a special Mass and ceremony Aug. 31 in Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church.

Principal of St. Stanislaus, distributed the rings to the seniors. He was assisted by Brother Noel Lemmon, dean of students, and Dr. Michael Ryan, academic assistant principal.

Patti J. Moran, daughter of Pete and Barbara Moran of the Catahoula community, was graduated from the University of Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg with a master of science degree in speech pathology on Aug. 11.

She attended Annunciation Catholic School in Kiln through the sixth grade, and is a 1984 graduate of Hancock North Central High School. She received a bachelor of science degree in speech pathology from USM on May 7, 1988.

Moran will be working with infants to four-year-olds at Child-Development Services in Gulfport.

MILITARY MENTION

PVT MURPHREE
Pvt. Martin M. Murphree has completed basic training at Fort Dix, N.J.

During the training, students received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and Army history and traditions.

Murphree is the son of Thomas B. and Nanette V. Murphree of Waveland.

ST. STANISLAUS senior Matt Richmond, left, receives his class ring from Principal Brother Paul Montero.

Father William Kelly SVD, rector of Divine Word Seminary, was the celebrant of the Mass assisted by faculty members Brother John Hotstream and James Thriffiley.

Tom Ackerman, junior Chris Delgado, and senior Michael Leach were in charge of the music for the Mass.

Brother William Leimbach, master of ceremonies, welcomed the seniors and their guests. Brother Paul Montero, parents served at the reception.

The 77 seniors are Rodney Aucoin, William Barker, Pat Barrett, Bill Bradley, Jim Brue, VISITS WITH PRESIDENT—Tom Bourgeois left, and his father Lionel of Waveland recently visited President George Bush in the Oval Office in Washington. The visit was arranged by the late Congressman Larkin Smith for Tom Bourgeois, age 24, who is a cancer patient. A graduate of St. Stanislaus, he worked on the Bush Campaign while taking treatments at the University Hospital in Jackson. Bourgeois became interested in politics his father said, when at age 11, he met and shook hands with President Gerald Ford in Bay St. Louis, as he was campaigning for re-election. Bourgeois is currently residing with his mother in Jackson and is still under going treatment.

Crime prevention professionals meet at MCI

The Mississippi Gulf Coast Crime Prevention Association held its quarterly meeting at the Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant Aug. 23.

Crime Prevention practitioners comprised of law enforcement officers, military and security professionals from agencies across South Mississippi, attended the meeting which was hosted by the Mason Chamberlain Inc. Security Department.

Officer Ronnie Castille of the Pascagoula Police Department Crime Prevention Bureau was the guest speaker. Castille proposed that the association assist North Mississippi crime prevention practitioners in forming an association with the goal by the end of the year to merge the two associations, to form the Mississippi Coalition of Crime Prevention Practitioners.

The state association would provide a central source of information, speakers, training and instructors for local and regional crime prevention training and assist in qualifying for federal grants. Mississippi is one of the few states which does not have a state crime prevention association. For more information, or an in-depth story about the association, contact James Luke, president of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Crime Prevention Association at 467-8744.

REIAH STROM

Dragon comes alive with help of Bay St. Louis girl

With the help of a tall stool, Reiah Strom of Bay St. Louis is able to converse on the same level with the ten-foot, talking, fire-breathing dragon she helped construct and operate for Slidell Little Theatre's recent children's production of the "Pale Pink Dragon."

The dragon, which had movable eyes, head, mouth, feet, tail, and wings, and could display fire, expel smoke, talk, sing, and even cry, was constructed in Bay St. Louis and transported by flat bed truck to the Little Theatre in Slidell on Nellie Drive.

Strom controlled the dragon from a seat in its ample belly which faced a complex control panel.

Communicating with a stage manager over headphones, she enabled the dragon to become a life-like member of the cast.

The "Pale Pink Dragon" sold out to a full capacity crowd each night of its performance. Slidell Little Theatre devotes itself each summer to drama and theater production classes and the presentation of theatricals utilizing children's talents in all phases of the production.

CLUBS, AUXILIARIES

American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139

The regular monthly birthday party sponsored by the Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139 was held at the Hotel Reed Nursing and Retirement home on Thursday, Aug. 31 for the residents who celebrated their birthdays during the month.

Mrs. Beth Gruzinskas, director of activity, had the dining room festively decorated with links of chains and many balloons of various colors, and the tables were "dressed up" with vases of flowers.

Mrs. Lena Mae Oustalot played the piano as Mrs. Roslyn Weathers led the singing of "Happy Birthday" and Mrs. Oris Blanchard helped in handing out the gifts to the happy recipients. Mrs. Hazel Wohlschlegel and Genevieve Cole were among the volunteers who helped serve the refreshments.

There were many new faces at this gathering, and all those present enjoyed the music and the singing of those songs so familiar to them.

Pass Christian Senior Citizens

The Pass Christian Senior Citizens Center held its monthly birthday dinner Wednesday, Aug. 30 at noon. There were 44 members and guests in attendance.

A delicious buffet, desserts and tea were enjoyed by all present. The guests were Mayor Theodore Lawyer, his secretary, Barbara Lahey, city clerk Dolores Peralta and comptroller Ken Saucier. Members celebrating August birthdays were Mrs. Evelyn Yeager, Mrs. Juanita Abinanti, Mrs. Marie Grilett, Mrs. Juanita Pavlou and Mayor Lawyer, guest.

Bingo was played and enjoyed from 10:30 a.m. to noon.

The next dinner will be on Wednesday, Sept. 27 at noon.

Parents can lessen report card trauma

By Traci M. Scott
Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service

Bringing home a report card regardless of the grades can be a traumatic experience for youth. Parents can help lessen the trauma by listening and communicating.

"If parents expect straight A's from their children and they only bring home average grades, youth feel they are disappointing their parents," said Dr. Ann F. Jarratt, youth development specialist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

"Parents must know their child's capabilities," said Jarratt. "A C-average person shouldn't be pressured to do A-average work."

During a student's academic career, certain aptitudes are measured by achievement tests and by previous grades. Parents should be aware of their child's limitations and accept them, Jarratt said.

"If a report card is really bad, instead of it being a real negative experience, a parent and child might try to communicate about what the problems are; then together set goals for improvement," Jarratt said.

Guidelines such as developing good study habits, must also be set for reaching the goals.

"Conferences with teachers are critical for students and parents," said Jarratt. "If the youth knows parents and teachers care, that in itself can be a motivational tool."

The specialist said the teacher can identify if the student is really trying or not. In a parent-teacher conference, parents can recommend good ways to handle their child in particular situations, and the teacher can suggest ways to help the child at home.

It may be that the youth is applying himself/herself to the fullest extent and average work is all the student is capable of. Jarratt said parents and teachers should take every opportunity to express pleasure in improvements. If a report card is good, take the opportunity to celebrate. Let youth know you're proud of them and their efforts.

Nutritious after-school snacks

Schools are back in session and after-school snacks are a daily routine. Nutrition studies indicate that the diets of our school-age and teenage children are often low in several very important nutrients.

These nutrients include vitamins A and C, calcium and iron. Through careful planning, after-school snacks can be an ideal way to increase these nutrients in their diets.

With many dual career households, an adult may not be at home in the afternoon. It is important to leave a note as to what snacks are available. Young people need direction and encouragement to select nutritious snacks and develop sound nutritional habits.

Have a "snack spot" in the refrigerator so the children know where to look for snacks or ingredients to prepare their own snack.

Limit snacking on foods such as candies, chips, rich pastries, cakes, pies and soft drinks. It is not necessary to eliminate these foods entirely—just use moderation and establish rules as to how often they can be eaten.

After-school snacks should be eaten as early as possible. The snacks may be nutritious and help in increasing the nutrients low in their diets, but if the child in turn does not eat supper, you may not have helped their daily nutrient intake.

Some examples of nutritious after-school snacks include:

Fresh Fruit: Fruits are good sources of vitamins A and C. Use sliced or whole apples, oranges, peaches, melons, grapes, bananas, apricots, berries or pineapple. Prepare a yogurt dip, or serve with cottage cheese. This not only adds variety but also adds calcium.

Vegetable snacks: Vegetables are good sources of vitamins A and C. Cut up fresh, raw vegetables such as celery, carrots, green beans, broccoli, cabbage, cauliflower or whatever they like.

Raw vegetables and dip are a good way to get children to eat vegetables they won't eat cooked. Serve with a favorite dip; they may even consider them better than chips and much more nutritious.

Milk products: The milk group is an ideal way to increase the calcium in the daily diet. Fruit milkshakes or frozen yogurt-fruit juice are a way to increase the calcium and vitamins in their diet. Cheese of all types also makes excellent snacks.

Meat group: Meats, although not the only food source, provide the needed iron for the diet. Leftover meats from dinner cut in chunks and served with cheese squares is an all-time favorite. Hardcooked eggs are convenient and provide an excellent source of dietary iron.

Breads and cereals: The bread and cereal group can provide a significant source of protein, vitamins and minerals. Encourage the use of whole-grain breads and crackers. Serve plain or with cheese or peanut butter.

Try a variety of quick breads and muffins with whole grains and/or fruit or vegetables. Pumpkin, zucchini or sweet vegetable breads. Fruit breads might include banana, strawberry, apple or blueberry muffins.

Thrift Store

Waveland Conference, St. Vincent de Paul Society operates a thrift store, Waveland Civic Center, Coleman Avenue, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesdays, Thursday, Fridays and Saturdays. Proceeds benefit needy regardless of race or religion. 467-0703.

Senior Center

Located in the Valena C. Jones Bldg. at 301 Old Spanish Trail in Bay St. Louis, the center serves Hancock County citizens 60 plus years of age.

Under the Hancock County Human Resource Agency, the center provides classes in ceramics, macrame', art, quilting, counted cross stitch, silk flowers, Christmas ornaments, framing, wood working and various other crafts. A morning snack is provided with donations from various clubs and businesses.

The center has a contract to provide 30 home delivered meals a day to those seniors who cannot provide for themselves, and 35 meals for those who have a need for a hot well-balanced meal daily in the cafeteria at the center.

Transportation is provided through a contract with Coast Area Transportation for most seniors in the county to bring them into the center, or to take them to the grocery, doctor, etc.

For more information, call the center at 467-9292, from 7:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Seniors Job Registry, Russell Youth Court Building, 126 Court Street, Bay St. Louis, offers placement services to employees and employers.

Call 467-7945 for additional information. Office hours are 8 a.m. to noon Mondays through Fridays.

Groups and their meeting locations include Bay-Waveland Group, Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church Parish Hall, South Beach Boulevard, Bay St. Louis; Mustard Seed Group, Christ Episcopal Church's Virginia Hall, South Beach Boulevard, Bay St. Louis; Camel and Omni Groups, The Robos Club, 506-B

"No Matter How Much You Buy At Winn-Dixie, We Guarantee More Leftovers."

There are a lot of good reasons to shop Winn-Dixie. But the best is the leftovers. Because no matter how much you buy at Winn-Dixie, we guarantee more. In fact, the more you buy, the more leftovers you'll have. And that's a good reason to buy a meal at Winn-Dixie. And when we say meal, we mean a meal. A meal you can eat now. And a meal you can save for later. You're going to see the difference at Winn-Dixie.
